ADAC WELCOMES FOUR SHOWROOMS TO ATLANTA DESIGN COMMUNITY

Browse More Than 19,000 Square Feet of New Showroom Space, Including the Center's Solely Dedicated Lighting Brand

ATLANTA – This fall, ADAC is thrilled to open the doors to four new showrooms, putting the Center at 97 percent leased and boosting their standing as a leading powerhouse in design. Kravet Inc. recently consolidated their showrooms to bring all three brands – Kravet, Lee Jofa and Brunschwig & Fils – under the same roof, while Habachy Designs & Atelier, Myran Allan, Theodore Alexander, and Wood-Mode are opening spaces of their own. Now home to 64 showrooms, the latest additions to the Center offer designers and industry professionals a complete range of new products including luxurious furniture, fabrics, rugs, floor and wallcoverings, cabinetry, lighting, and accessories.

"We are proud to have created an environment where luxury, quality, and diversity are easily accessible for all kinds of industry professionals," says Katie Miner, ADAC's General Manager. "These prominent showrooms, including ADAC's solely dedicated lighting showroom, will further add to the diverse selection of products at ADAC and add even more to our convenient, one-stop shop for designers."

Below are details on ADAC's newest showroom news and the impressive addition of over 19,000 square feet:

Habachy Designs + Atelier | Suite 422

Michael Habachy and Habachy Designs + Atelier are proud to announce the opening of a stunning new lifestyle showroom at ADAC. "As an interior designer based in Atlanta for more than 20 years, I've always found ADAC to be a wealth of resources for our clients and projects, so it almost felt like coming home for us to open a showroom here," says Michael Habachy, Owner of Habachy Designs + Atelier. "I also love how ADAC has evolved and become more diverse with its showrooms and offerings. It just felt like the perfect fit for what we wanted to do." The 2,138-square foot space features a Nordic/Scandinavian aesthetic, carefully blended with luxurious and exotic finds inspired by Michael's world travels. Visitors can shop a curated collection of the finest furniture and lighting makers including Faye Toogood from London; Fredericia, by Lassen, Overgard and Dyrman from Copenhagen; DCW Editions, Gilles Caffier and Temps Libre from Paris; Alphenberg Leather from Amsterdam; and Amuneal from New York; and Ridgely Studios from Canada.

Kravet Inc. | Suite 106

Kravet Inc. is pleased to announce the recent renovation and reconfiguration of their showroom, which opened in late August. "Uniting Kravet, Lee Jofa, Brunschwig & Fils, along with our ancillary brands, creates a truly unique home furnishings showroom in ADAC," says Doug Garfinkle, Executive Vice President of Showrooms for Kravet Inc. "Our clients' needs are always at the core of our design direction, and the new powerhouse showroom will not only facilitate the ease of shopping, but create a fresh, dynamic experience." The showroom will offer digital scanners to help designers scan memos of interest in order to streamline the shopping experience. They have carved out space for dedicated carpet and wallcovering sections and will have a new café and Curated Kravet boutique in the 8,854-square foot space.

Myran Allan | Suite 420

Myran Allan Luxury Lighting, the second generation of the Myran Allan brand, is thrilled to return to ADAC with their own showroom. Longtime employees of Myran Allan Chandelier, Rene Cardena and Loring Lounsberry, are now owners of the company rebranded as Myran Allan Luxury Lighting. The new 2,300-square foot showroom will not only serve the opportunity to showcase the fine lighting that the company imports and manufactures, but they will also be the only dedicated lighting showroom within ADAC. Representing a select group of other lighting brands including Tech Lighting, George Kovaks, Access Lighting, and Elk Lighting and Lamps, the showroom will also feature a collection of furniture and accessories to complement the lighting. The showroom will give Myran Allan the opportunity to present all of the custom capabilities they have to produce the finest lighting products.

Theodore Alexander | Suite 402

Theodore Alexander exclusively manufactures wonderful casegoods, all beautifully executed by hand and many done in various exotic wood species. They proudly offer some of the finest upholstery manufactured in the industry, along with wonderful lighting and accessories in their new 3,500-square foot showroom at ADAC. “Theodore Alexander believes in being best in class when it comes to servicing the interior design trade,” says Neill Robinson, President of Theodore Alexander. “The only way to do this in Georgia, is to have a showroom at ADAC. ADAC is where the best designers in the southeast come to select high-quality, unique product for their clients, and Theodore Alexander is now proud to be part of that offering.”

Wood-Mode | ADAC West | Suite A5

The Wood-Mode Lifestyle Design Center is the second showroom of its kind in a major design center to be a resource to homeowners, interior designers, and trade professionals. “The Wood-Mode Lifestyle Design Center is created to uniquely showcase the latest cabinetry products and designs through full-scale rooms depicting today’s hottest trends. From a farmhouse chic kitchen to a contemporary space for entertaining; and a classic kitchen with breakfast room to a modern loft kitchen and bar, this premier showroom will be a resource to design professionals and area homeowners to view and collaborate on the latest custom cabinetry solutions,” says Scott Collins, President of Collins & Company, Inc., the firm that operates the Wood-Mode showroom. From classic stain finishes on which Wood-Mode has built a reputation, to the latest in high-pressure laminate technology from Austria, each new display in the 2,500-square foot space showcases the breadth of style, material, and custom capabilities that Wood-Mode can provide to discerning customers.
